

Editorial Note:
Second Announcement of PCM-CMM 2027

We are pleased to inform our readers about the upcoming PCM-CMM 2027 Conference, which will jointly host the 6th Polish Congress of Mechanics and the 27th International Conference on Computer Methods in Mechanics. The event is scheduled to take place on 6–9 September 2027 in Bialystok, Poland.

PCM-CMM is a well-established international scientific meeting that brings together researchers and practitioners working in the broad field of mechanics and computational methods. The conference provides a forum for the presentation of recent advances, exchange of ideas, and discussion of current challenges in both theoretical and applied mechanics.

Further, more detailed communications - including information on registration, submission procedures, and the scientific programme - will follow in due course.

For additional information, please visit the conference website:

<https://pcm-cmm.com/>